FRANCIS MURPHY HERE

GLAD RECEPTION GIVEN AT KAWAIAHAO CHURCH

Great Temperance Apost's Will Remain in City and Hold Series
Gospel Temperance Meetings.

The arrival of Francis Murphy in the Ventura last night from Australia, where he has been laboring for some months in the interests of temperance, was made an event of rejoicing by his friends in the city. There was marching and the confusion of torches on the streets and a monster mass meeting at Kawaiahao church. It is the intention of Francis Murphy to remain in Honolulu and hold a series of his meetings. He will be joined by his wife who will come from San Francisco by an early boat.

When the Ventura touched the wharf Mr. Murphy was greeted by a throng of his friends who awaited his arrival. He was taken in charge by Franklin Austin, organizer of the Francis Murphy Temperance Club Association, and escorted to the Hawaiian hotel. After dining with friends, Mr. Murphy was driven to the drill shed grounds where the Territorial band stood at the front of a procession ready to march through the streets. In the procession were Y. M. C. A. men, and representatives from all the clubs. Crowds of boys whose interest had been aroused were on hand to carry torches.

Proceeding to Kawaiahao church, Mr. Murphy accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Austin, Rev. A. E. Cory and wife, Rev. Mr. Hartley, Messrs. Bancroft and Richards, entered and walked to the platform. As the party went up the aisle, the congregation arose and sang "Coronation."

A welcoming address was made by Mr. Bancroft. After an invocation by Rev. A. E. Cory, Franklin Austin spoke giving an outline of the work accomplished since Mr. Murphy left last winter.

Murphy himself followed with a characteristic address. His appearance was the signal for tremendous applause. It was a delightful homecoming for Mr. Murphy and that he enjoyed and appreciated it was evinced by the pleasant smiles that graced his features. He spoke of his success in the Antipodes and told of his aloha for Honolulu and the people here. His health is good, his heart happy. He spoke with an easy flow of natural wit immersed in floods of sincere sentiment. His speech abounded in epigram and charming anecdote. The meeting closed with all joining in the rendition of "America."

GOOD CANE FROM THE KONA DISTRICT

The Bulletin office is in receipt of several bunches of sugar cane in various stages of growth which, for its age looks remarkably well. The cane was grown upon the places of Senator John D. Paris, John de Mello and the South Kona Agricultural Co.'s property in the South Kona district on the leeward side of Hawaii.

The cane has remarkably long joints and is the much favored Yellow Caledonia variety, while the display speaks well for the district.

At Kanaele the Kona Sugar Co. has some 1500 acres planted to cane, reaching an altitude of nearly 3000 feet which also looks well. The above company is now building a railroad eight miles in length to connect the mill with this portion of the plantation. This cane, or at least much of it will be ready to cut by the first of the coming year. Mr. Cowan is the manager at the Kona plantation, and during the short space of time he has filled that position, has had his hands full of bringing a promising property out of a state of chaos and had management and poor judgment which condition is strongly in evidence from the erection of the mill building to the planters' holdings.

CHILDREN'S WORST FOE.

Children show symptoms of disease quicker than grown people, and are accordingly easy to treat for all troubles. The worst foes of children are worms, but their presence can be readily detected and speedily removed. When a child becomes restless in sleep, picks at its nose, grinds its teeth, has an irregular appetite, is nervously irritable, and has bad breath, it is a victim of worms' work. There is just one way to treat worms—that is to kill them. Don't waste time on any other treatment, and don't waste money on any other medicine, for Kickapoo Indian Worm Killer is the safest, surest, promptest and most permanent relief from worms. Hobson Drug Co., agents for Kickapoo Indian Remedies.

Another Wall Street Story.

In "The Man Who Won," dramatically illustrated by W. R. Leigh, McClure's Magazine for August will contain, in the opinion of several who have read the manuscript, the very best of Edwin Lefevre's stories on Wall street. The moral which is so skillfully hidden away in these tales of stock gambling—that it is wiser and more profitable to let speculation alone—does not occur to one until the story is finished and the mind is working on the motif. "The Man" in the tale wins, and he wins from the "Napoleon of the Street," John P. Greener who, by the way, is the counterpart of a very well known financier, long since deceased. But the manner of his winning is not forgotten in contemplation of the size of the stake. Mr. Lefevre certainly knows the under side of the life he depicts so graphically.
